

AFV BELTRAME GROUP

Junior Energy Efficiency Specialist (Stahl Gerlafingen - Switzerland)

Based in our Plant in Stahl Gerlafingen AG, the energy efficiency specialist will be included in the Energy team.

What you will do:

- Collaboration with the Energy and Sustainability Manager;
- Project management and development of the energy management system as well as certification according to ISO 50001;
- Supervision of the energy measurement infrastructure in cooperation with the energy supply manager;
- Consumer analysis of the entire plant for all energy sources as well as optimisation of the measurement concept for the control of energy efficiency measures as well as know-how position for internal consultation of the plant areas;
- Development of action plans in the areas of process plants, building services and buildings; • Participation in various working groups on the topic of sustainability.

What we are looking for:

- Degree in energy or environmental technology, mechanical engineering, electrical engineering, process technology or mechatronics;

INTERNATIONAL CAREER FAIR

- Further education/NDS in the field of energy efficiency, renewable energies with relevant professional experience;
- Knowledge of Swiss energy legislation is an advantage;
- Flexible, proactive and outgoing personality with a strong team orientation;
- Solution-oriented, reliable and self-reliant way of working;
- Good IT user skills (Office);
- Knowledge of German and English Italian advantageous.

Place of work: Stahl Gerlafingen (Switzerland)